Evolution of A Modern Daily

The Development of the Bulletin From a Fortnightly
Leaflet to an Eight Page Seven Column Daily

The Bulletin appears to-day as an eight-page seven-column daily paper, the first to be published in the Province outside the city of Calgary. This will hereafter be the regular size of both daily and semi-weekly issues, and with the additional facilities thus afforded, the Bulletin hopes to fill a broader sphere, and merit an even more loyal support than has been accorded it in the past.

Times have changed since an ox-cart toiled across the plains carrying the little hand press on which were printed the early numbers of the Bulletin. The hamlet which then nestled on the bluff overlooking the broad Saskatchewan has grown to a populous city, with a prosperous present and an unbounded prospect; the country of which it has been and is the commercial heart has settled and developed into one of the richest farming districts in the Canadian west; the weary leagues which separated Alberta from the business life of the continent have been annihilated by railways; the tread of multitudes most notable addition, however, has been the installation of the Cox Duplex press, upon which today's issue is printed.

This press is a triumph of mechanical ingenuity, and represents the highest achievement in presses which print from type. To describe it to the lay mind without having the press in view would be almost impossible, and a cut is reproduced elsewhere. To say that it is a great machine is the mildest manner of speech. There are incorporated within its mechanism the genius of a thousand of America's greatest inventors. It could hardly be called an invention itself. It is rather an evolution. From the old flat-bed Washington to the Cox Duplex was merely the combination of the ideas of half a century. The principle of both is to all intents and purposes the same. The difference is in the mechanical contrivances which have been adopted to increase the speed and the capacity of the press.

Briefly stated the Cox Duplex bears about the same relation to the original printing press as the self-

the receiving box folded ready for the reader.

The press weighs, all told, twelve tons. It will print four, six or eight pages. The web roll weighs 1,000 pounds, and travels into the press at the rate of about three inches an hour. The pages when printed are 22 1/2 by 17 1/2 inches, the standard size of all modern dailies.

The new press will print, fold, paste and count 5,000 to 6,000 copies per hour, with a neatness and precision that is almost human in its operation.

This press embodies the latest improvements, and represents the highest development of press building. It is built from the newest designs, double gear, with what is known as the "box pattern" frame, and special reference to strength, convenience and mechanical appearance. It rests upon a concrete floor to avoid vibration, with a pit three and a half feet deep under it, to enable the pressman to obtain access to all parts for cleaning, oiling and attendance. Steam pipes are run around the walls of this pit to facilitate the running of the press in cold weather. It occupies a floor space of 10 by 16 feet.

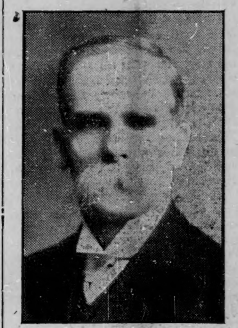

The press was installed by an expert from Battle Creek.

The press runs so easily and quietly that the observer does not realize its speed until he approaches the delivery box and sees the swift-ness with which the papers are delivered. Every part of the press acts in unison, and no mistake can occur except through carelessness of the operator.

The web or roll of paper from which the press prints is about 4 miles long when placed in the ma-

SAM PATTON WILL COMMAND "A" SQUADRON

Word was received in town today on what is believed to be good authority that Mr. S. Patton has been appointed to the command of the "A" squadron of Alberta Horse, recently provided for by the Department of Militia. Mr. Patton was asked about the matter this afternoon and said that he had received no confirmation of the report although he was not surprised to learn that such was the case. He states that there will be no difficulty in raising the troops here and he believes that Edmonton will furnish a contingent of at least seventy, including officers. Mr. Patton will hold the rank of major. The names of the other officers have not yet been learned.

In the auditorium of the Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock, an entertainment will be given by the scholars of the Sabbath school. The entertainment is in the form of a Christmas cantata entitled "The Real Santa Claus" in which about fifty of the children will appear. There are fancy drills, songs and choruses. All the children of the Sabbath school will be admitted free. Adults 25c. Children from other schools, 15c.

with its joys and festivities. Not the least of these may be the pleasure of a good drive to help to digest your Christmas dinner. It matters not that you have neither horse nor carriage. We offer for your use for small recompense the choice of many easy-going vehicles drawn by fast-going horses. But order early, to be sure of the pick of 'em all.

chine, and of the necessary size to print four, six or eight-page newspaper, as desired. The roll for an eight-page paper is seventy inches wide and weighs about 1000 pounds. That for a six page is 52 1/2 inches wide.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to visit the press room of the Bulletin at three o'clock tomorrow, Saturday afternoon, when the press will be in operation.

has awakened the slumber of the Great Lone Land, and the commercial life of the nation has felt the quickening impulse imparted by the development and utilization of western resources.

In these changes the Bulletin has endeavored to play the part assigned by its duties and afforded by its opportunities. In securing the settlement of the Northwest Territories no local factor has operated more powerfully and continuously than the success which has rewarded the faith and enterprise of the pioneers of the Edmonton district. To represent to the outside world the results of these efforts has been not less the duty and the purpose of the Bulletin than the provision of the current news of the world for those who were devoting their lives to the making of the far west.

To keep abreast of the changes which it has helped to create has necessitated continuous improvements in the office and plant of the Bulletin, in the frequency of publication and the size of the paper. Several years since the log "sheep" in which the early life of the Bulletin was spent was replaced by the substantial brick block, a cut of which is reproduced to-day. During the present summer a brick addition 45 by 75 was provided for the mechanical department. The plant has grown in keeping with the premises; the "hand comp" and case have been superseded by type-setting machines, and the foot-power jobbing press by a Cox Duplex, on which to-day's issue was printed. From a small fortnightly leaflet, a copy of which is reproduced in this issue, the Bulletin became a weekly, then a semi-weekly, and some three years ago the first daily edition was printed. With each change has been enlargement, until to-day the Bulletin presents its readers with an eight page, seven-column city daily.

Mechanically speaking the greatest feature of the press is that it will print a complete paper, folded, pasted and ready for the newsboy and the reader at one impression direct from the type.

The forms are set, and made up in precisely the same manner as for any other press. The machine has two decks, one above the other. The forms are set in the decks, four forms or pages to each check. The paper, which leads from an endless web roll seventy inches wide and containing four miles of paper, is carried over rollers to the forms which lie in the beds. The lower bed is printed first, making an impression of four pages, or printing the inside of the paper. Carried farther along, it doubles over the end of the machine and leads to the upper bed where the second side is printed, making the complete paper but still in the web. From here it travels along to the folder, where it is slit by revolving knives, one half of it travelling over an angle bar in such a manner as to bring it below the other, and feed both into the folder together. As it reaches the folder each separate paper is cut at the margin from the web, and as it passes over a complicated system of endless tapes it is doubled and redoubled until it emerges at

ALBERTA FARMERS' ASSOCIATION.

The farmers of Northern Alberta feel that there is need of an organization which would unite every farmer in the province in one strong organization. The Grain Growers' Association partially fills this bill, but is too narrow in its constitution and appeals only to the grain grower. What is wanted is an Association that will embrace every farmer whether a grain grower or stock raiser. Consequently the members of Grain Growers' Associations and of the American Society of Equity in the vicinity of Edmonton have drafted a constitution which they thought would be wide enough to cover every farmer, and organized what they called the "Alberta Farmers' Association." The following are the objects of the Association as laid down in the constitution adopted.

1 To forward the interests of the producers of grain and live stock in every honorable and legitimate way.
2 To hold meetings for the discussion of subjects pertaining to the production of grain and live stock and the best means of marketing the same.

3 To encourage the establishment of industries which will give the producer greater facilities for marketing his produce.

4 To encourage the production of superior varieties of grain and the breeding and rearing of improved stock.

5 To obtain by united effort profitable and equitable prices for farm produce.

6 To watch legislation relating to the farmers' interests, particularly that affecting the marketing and transportation of farm produce.

7 To suggest to Parliament from time to time as it is found necessary, through duly appointed delegates, the passing of any new legislation to meet changing conditions and requirements.

The Association is not a political organization, nor does it purpose endorsing the policy of any political party or the candidature of any politician. The balance of the constitution is practically that of the Grain Growers' Association. It provides for branch Associations in every district and a central governing body made up of delegates from the various local organizations.

At a meeting of delegates from the Clover Bar and Strathcona branches, temporary officers for a central association were elected on December 9th as follows: President, D. W. Warner, East Edmonton; Vice-President, W. F. Stevens, Clover Bar; Secretary, Treasurer, R. E. Sheppard, Box 47, Strathcona; and a board of six directors. The object of electing officers was to have some head with which to push along the work of organizing the whole of the province. Either the president or secretary will be glad to answer any questions about the constitution, to forward copies of the constitution to those desiring one, and assist, as far as it is in their power, with the formation of new branches throughout the province. It will not be long before the increasing production of grain and other farm products will demand organization on the part of farmers for mutual protection. Such an organization could have done a useful work a year ago in improving the price of hogs, and can today attempt to improve the market for beef cattle, the condition of which is fast becoming unbearable. Already complaints are being made of unfair dockage being taken at elevators, and soon all the trouble of the grain grower of Saskatchewan will begin to torment the producer of this province. Farmers should therefore be organized and ready to cope with the old difficulties when they present themselves here, association is heartily recommended to the farmers of Alberta with the hope that if all farmers would join and support it they would obtain much better service from the railway and elevator authorities and be able to help one another in various ways. Address all letters to the president, D. Warner, East Edmonton, or to R. E. Sheppard, Secretary-Treasurer, Box 47, Strathcona.

Following the installation a banquet was held at the Windsor Hotel, Dr. A. E. Jamieson, W.M., presiding. The toast to the Grand Lodges Alberta and Manitoba was responded to by H. C. Taylor, D.G.M., Dr. A. E. Braithwaite, P.G.M., and Dr. Goggin, P.G.M. Dr. Goggin called attention to the wonderful resources of our great Dominion, referring especially to the new Province of Alberta and to the importance of the city of Edmonton. He pointed out clearly the great force Masonry should be in moulding the life of the west, where usages and customs have not yet become established, and called on the brethren to stand by the true spirit of Masonry and thereby help to establish in the new life of the West the great principle of brotherly love.

The toast to the Sister Lodges was responded to by Dr. H. L. Melnes, P.M., J. C. P. Brown, S.W., M. J. MacLeod, P.D.G.M., and Rev. G. H. Webb, Past Grand Chaplain.

The toast to the new officers was responded to by W. H. Jaeger, J.W., and C. Ross Palmer, S.D.

Dr. Goggin afterwards presented a toast to the new Master of the Lodge, Dr. A. E. Jamieson, who responded in an able manner, anticipating the hearty co-operation of the brethren in order that a satisfactory advance in Masonry may be recorded during the coming year in Edmonton Lodge No. 7.

The musical part of the evening was arranged by Mr. V. W. Barford, Messrs. Kelly, Stedman, Collett and Race rendered a quartette, and the songs of Mr. Jackson Hanby and Mr. Kelly each demanded well merited encores.

The program was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem and Auld Lang Syne.

—The Hudson's Bay Co. received from Messrs. Mackie & Co. the famous distillers of Scotch whiskey, and the proprietors of the St. Lawrence and Sutherland distilleries, Islay, Argyllshire, 75 lbs. each, some leather and a great big haggis. Mr. Goldsmith, the manager of the Hudson's Bay
 stores, has presented this to the St.
 Andrew's Society, so that every Scotsman who attends the coming banquet on January 25, Burns' centenary, will have a chance to eat a real Scotch haggis and carry home with him a piece of his mother land.

—The Imperial Service Medal Association held their annual meeting last evening at the Grand View hotel. The following officers were elected: President,
 S. C. Eaton; vice president, F. C.
 Jamieson; secretary, W. C. Godson. A large committee representing all arms of the service was also elected. All men having Imperial Service medals are eligible for membership. After the meeting those present adjourned to the dining room and partook of an excellent repast set forth by Miss Hosie.
 There was a lengthy toast list.
 Speeches were made by Messrs.
 Lunn and P. H. Sacke, Fenian Raid;
 B. J. Saunders, North-west Rebellion;
 B. J. Adams, F. C. Jamieson; J. J.
 Schell, Arthur Person, and Cuthbert
 Cope, South Africa; Percy Belcher, J.
 F. Forbes, Mounted Police; and others.
 Songs were given by W. Clarke, W.
 Richardson, W. Godson, W. A. Griesbach
 and R. H. Palmer. Richardson's orchestra furnished music for the opening.

—J. W. Wallace, D.L.S., who has been surveying base line 18, in the country
 east of Lesser Slave Lake, came in on Thursday, and is stopping at the Alberta previous to going to Ottawa.
 Mr. Wallace had with him a party of 15 men and he ran over 100 miles of base line in a most difficult country, some parts of which were almost impassable muskegs and in others mountains 5,000 feet high. The intention was to run from Lesser Slave Lake to the British Columbia line, but owing to the character of the country the work was not accomplished.
 The Wallace party has been out since the 18th of April last. The country through which they traveled is described as being largely unsuited for agriculture purposes, but large timber areas were found, especially in the Moose Mountain and Swan river country, where there is some fine jack pine. The watershed is toward the Lesser Slave Lake.

GRACE CHURCH CHRISTMAS TREE
 The Christmas entertainment of the Grace Methodist Sunday school
 brought out the entire congregation
 last night and an exceptionally pleasant evening was passed. A very enjoyable program by the scholars was presented, showing much care on the part of the teachers in the training of the children. The Santa Claus feature was the most enjoyed by little ones. A distinctly modern interpretation of the old tale of Santa Claus descending via the chimney was rendered. At the close of the program, the trap doors in the ceiling opened and not Santa Claus but the Christmas tree descended into the middle of the expectant throng. The delight of the children at the sight of the present laden spruce was genuine and spontaneous.

After the distribution of presents,
 Rev. Mr. Tuttle, on behalf of the congregation, presented to Miss Clark, organist, and Mr. Stuthebury, choir leader, a handsome recognition of their services in their respective capacities.

A. T. Cushing, superintendent of the school presided as chairman.
